GUTTENBURG RACE TRACE, MARCH 14.—Racing was continued at Guttenburg to-day with hard track. The weather spoiled what would otherwise have been a splendid day's racing. The bitter wind kept every one under cover, and dust flew in great clouds. The track while dry and hard was not fast, as the time for the various events will show. The ruling off of Blakely, the lockey who rode Benefit in the hurdle race on Saturday, was not without its humorous features. It seems Les Blakely voluntarily entered the commit tee-room after the races were over, and, ad-

Binkely sat down, and as a result was ruled out. He practically convicted himself.

The first race of to-day was at five furiongs, and a very fair lot came to the post. Cratt, on the strength of his good race a few days ago, was heavily played at short odds.

Needmere was also heavily played while the Western gelding Napa II. was plunged on at 10 to 1 so heavily that at the post 3 to 1 was the best that could be had.

The race furnished an exciting finish between Needmore and Napa II. The former won in the last jump by an eyelash.

The second event also furnished a pretty finish between Turk II., Miss Olive, Vanctuse and Sir Launcelot, the quartet finishing heads apart.

The winner was an 8 to 1 shel. Miss Olive.
